Course Description

In this course, students prepare and sit for the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN®). Students will create study plans, become familiar with item types, review case studies, take both partial and full-length practice tests, and review answers and explanations to keep pace with the ever-changing healthcare landscape. Pass/No Pass grading.

Course learning outcomes

1. Demonstrate understanding of how nursing care directly impacts and enhances healthcare client outcomes.
2. Properly distinguish growth and development principles, prevention and/or early detection of health problems, and strategies to achieve optimal health.
3. Identify the aspects of proper nursing care that promote and support the emotional, mental and social well-being of the client experiencing stressful events as well as clients with acute or chronic mental illness.
4. Demonstrate clear understanding of how evidence-based nursing care and comfort reduces client risk potential and supports physical well-being.
5. Apply foundational healthcare concepts from the social, biological and physical sciences to the nursing assessment, prioritization, and clinical judgment process.
